Dear Congressman Gaydos;

Last January I began the long process of trying to gain employment with the C.I.A. in their Office of Finance. After going through the entire procedure, including two polygraph tests, I received a rejection letter. This letter did not have an explanation of why I was rejected. I would like you to intercede on my behalf in seeking to have my status re-evaluated by them.

I sent a registered letter and called to have a copy of my file sent to me. Neither has been answered. Although I'd much prefer the job, I would like a copy of that file for my examination.

If you should require any additional information or wish to meet with me, do not hesitate to contact me at the above address or phone number. Thank you for your consideration and help in this matter.

Sincerely,
